You could forget it all — downtown.

Gulp a beer, ogle some legs, groove awhile. Forget the diploma factory up the street and get some real food — ummmm — pizza — with anchovies, and sausage and pepperoni and a little, uhhh, dirt. Slosh that old 3.2 down and maybe you'll get another piece of — uhhh — pizza.
Miller High Life
ON TAP
Downtown came to life with new ideas of young merchants.

Once a drab place... known only for bars and TGIF on Fridays... downtown has come to life. Students are merchants now, selling everything... leather shops, bookstores, clothing boutiques, antiques, junk, hand-made stuff and odds and ends... New life, new excitement... a new spirit in our town.
No magic bus traveled through Kent this year.

A place of idle time, a way to get there and maybe back again; to the next class, to downtown, back to the dorm. No time to make a friendship or start a conversation as faces change so rapidly. Stare out the window at passing lives, blurred and faint. You can ride a mile or a whole day.
We, an elite minority, have the right
We alone know the truth
We will speak; you will listen
— for your own good
We will dominate; we will rule
— or destroy you.
We, an elite minority.
In the Year of the Pig
the middle of the road
became a no-man’s-land.

"The streets are in turmoil. The universities are filled with students rebelling and rioting. Communists are seeking to destroy our country. Russia is threatening us with her might, and the republic is in danger. Yes, danger from within and danger from without. We must have law and order . . . law and order . . . law and order!

—Adolph Hitler; 1932
And on June 16, 1969 a last ditch stand for moderation and understanding suffered death by strangulation.

CONCERNED CITIZENS COMMITTEE
An artist practiced his time-honored trade in Lincoln Center.

A huff, a puff, patience and skill, plus heat, lung power, and a "feel" for glass are united in the creation of a shimmering work of art by Kent State's glassblower.
'Creative' artists brought a little sophistication to KSU.

"Big City Dudes out to spend our money? Seven creating artists invade Middle America to find uptight minds closed to mud flows and happenings. A wasre? No. Students turned-on to the minds of our time caught the message of a Living art."
Folks gathered at Kent for that down-home sound.

Come down home one time for a handful of visiting gitfiddles and join in the goings-on cause it's fun to hear people sing what they feel and it's fun to grin through an un-electronic good time.
Black seers told unspoken truths with flashing eyes.

Throb
to the music of the drum as it beats and it drives and it pulls and it draws and awakens a reply from the walls within that re-echo and resound and reply to a glow from within that will swell to the throb of a heavy, heavy drum.
Theatre came alive with a world premiere at Kent State.

Create: a melody, a character, a situation.
Design: a costume, a scene, a mask.
Direct: an actor, an orchestra, a cast.
The end product? A world premiere; a spring or summer repertory company; a playbill crammed with entertainment.
— All in a Year's work for theatre people at KSU.

I AM OZ, THE GREAT AND TERRIBLE. WHO ARE YOU?

I am the small and the meek, looking for a way back to Kansas.

WHY HAVE YOU COME HERE TO MY CITY OF EMERALDS?

Because I wanted to see what you look like and what you can do. Because I thought you might help me find my way back or maybe my way to some other place. Because, hell, I like a good kick as much as the next guy.

THEN YOU MAY SEE ME IN MANY FORMS. TO SOME, I APPEAR AS A BEAUTIFUL LADY. TO SOME AS A BALL OF FIRE. WHAT FORM WOULD YOU SEE?

I don't know. Whatever form I choose, how will I know you will help me?

I WILL DO NOTHING UNTIL YOU PROVE YOURSELF WORTHY. CHALLENGE THE LAW OF THE WITCH OF THE WEST AND DEFY HER.

WELL, OK. I GUESS. OK, I want to get back to Kansas very badly. And I like excitement and a good kick just like the next guy, just like my friends.

Lovers...

It may be a renewing of an old feeling or an exchanging of precious 'first-time' vows of loyalty. Of loving, of sharing, all hurried - squeezed between classes, between term papers and books, between the pages of their lives. They live their brief, probably passing, maybe lasting, memories of caresses, fights, laughs and defeats. Alone they started, and may be alone again, but, as the story reads, there was a time when...
A blind man and a holy teacher sang truths for those who came home.
The whispers were “beat B.G. —
and, well,
we tried:
with a pep rally and queen (Beth Calhoun),
a torchlight parade and fireworks;
then hot-fevered strums,
cool shaded hums
from a blind virtuoso;
but mud-muscled birds
squished by our flashes, 7-0.
Then love taught by a
karma-oozing,
$30,000 Donovan
eased the 7-point pain.

An entertainer lead us back along the road to childhood

Tell us a funny story, Mr. Cosby.

Big Bill —
little willy
—the man with the back door to yesterday who tells children's tales in grown-up language for children and kids tales that adults understand.

... remember?

Teach us to laugh now at those things that scared us blind or we looked at and never quite saw
... once.

Make us howl and roll in the aisles at something that pop would have smacked us for
... yesterday.

Bring back yesterday, Mr. Cosby let me hold it in my hand and return with you to the innocence of childhood, that's the biggest joke of all
... Mr. Cosby.
Of course it RAINED and the floats — floated past the Hood. But the wet-blanket rain was just an aftermath to a night of Ormandy, and a prelude to Sahl and Mendes and Country Joe and the Fish and Blood, Sweat and Tears. And though it rained on our parade, this Day was the best yet.

Beauty glowed on the faces of girls on the way to being women.

Eighteen-year-old virgins out to meet The World of Man on their own for the first time. They step from the shelter of their steel-womb-dorms and see another person who will smile when they do, watch them move, hold them when they cry and maybe even giggle with them.

Once in a while, there was a class worth going to.

Well, Dr. Gargan, here we go again 50 minutes a day, 3 times a week. That's a long time for Anybody to go at full steam, even if it is about STATE GOVERNMENT.

But it must be quite a compliment to know about 25 per cent of the class comes just to hear you lecture. Hell, I've never seen ANYBODY make state government as interesting as you do. I mean, "Doesn't that turn you on — at all?"
Researchers sought answers to science's mysteries.

New buildings, new facilities, new ideas, and new projects... faculty members and students are involved in a wide range of research... in Chemistry, the emphasis is centered on the Varian A-60 nuclear magnetic resonance spectrometer, X-ray diffraction equipment and light scattering equipment... Biological research includes interests in ecology, physiology and systematic botany. Exercise physiology is concerned with the body's reaction to exercises, the improvement of working capacity and its effect on coronary risk factors... in Physics the studies range from the liquid crystal experiments to problems in pulsed and continuous nuclear magnetic resonance methods, Mossbauer spectros copy, cryogenics and X-ray techniques... Psychological research involves human and animal learning, clinical, developmental and social psychology quantitative methods, sensory processes and preception.

Yes, we have a soccer team, a damn good one. So what if the MAC doesn't recognize soccer as a varsity sport? Maybe the soccer team doesn't recognize the MAC. Record? Sure, a 4-5-1 record. Put us with OU in first place in the unrecognized MAC. Held seventh in the state for three weeks, then we only dropped back to ninth. You wanta see a great player — Nick DiGrino — our goalie. Marvelous! He never started playing soccer until his freshman year at KSU.

A rough year for our team — with internal struggles and external criticism heaped on them, they played — and though they stayed in the cellar, Lagodich made his “1013th” and the rest of Truitt’s boys tried their very best.
When it comes down to whether or not you can actually do it, don't ask the team. They're your friends; don't ask Begala. It's too late. He's wondering, too. They're all asking you that same question NOW without a team to cover your mistakes, without a chance to call 'time', without anyone else to blame. And if you're good and the ref is fair, when his hand hits the mat for the third time and the crowd on its feet roars your name you can answer that question for yourself.
Beauty . . . an unfamiliar word to sports, but in gymnastics an essential component.
Perseverance . . . typical of all sports, but seldom thought of in connection with beauty.
Competition . . . the basis for all sports, but usually team against team.
Independence . . . found in some sports, provides no team to back you; you're on your own.
Gymnastics . . . beauty, perseverance, competition and independence.
Love is a game for two—

Serve.
A serve, you say? a game?
Love is tennis.

Tennis
Cross country is one thing; track another. Track requires skill as well as personal training. Sure you run. There's the 440, the 880, the mile. But there're other events. There're jumps: the running broad, the standing broad, the running high and the standing high. There's shot put. There's the javelin. Every one of these events takes just as much training as any one other sport. You can specialize in one event, but you usually participate in more than just one. The events you participate in you do well, or you just don't participate in track.
Baseball
Think of baseball this way:
the computation of the trajectory of a sphere and the approach of a tube so that an intersection will occur and the resulting angle of incidence will give an angle of reflection with a vector force capable of another trajectory to carry the sphere far enough to an area unprotected by an opponent's team member.

The opponent's team member then retrieves the sphere and returns it with another trajectory to a second opponent team member before the man making the original computations is able to propel himself a total of 360 feet, making three 90 degree turns.

That's quite a baseball team, isn't it?

A minor melting pot, combining the qualities of young women from all over the country, mixed carefully for three quarters of an academic year, that's PRENTICE. Flavored slightly with Fugs records... Tom Jones posters... multi-colored love beads... and Mod Squad on Tuesday nights in the lounge. Color? The most natural in the world: blonde to brown, red to black. And some not so natural. A building, no, a binder for all its inhabitants.
Individuality ... to VERDER women means time set aside to do their own thing. Spirit ... to Verder women means a first place for their Campus Day float and second place for Song Fest. Togetherness ... to Verder women is the Annual Miss Witch Contest, the Verder Chorus and the Christmas Corridor Contest. Goals: future individuality, spirit, togetherness and the Bowman Cup.
The king of dormitories, DUNBAR, reigns over a feminine kingdom. Dunbar men exchange window glances with Prentice, serenade Verder and snitch ice from Terrace. Dunbar fought to remain number one on campus this year. The dorm took first place for its Christmas light display and a top award for its Homecoming "argyle sock." Broadcasters, accountants and bandsmen join for football at the infamous "Nixson Hall Memorial Field."
Engleman

Noisy pipes that creak, bang and hiss . . .
losing the tunnel to the union . . .
peanut butter and Carson’s . . .
the weekly laundry flood and boiler leak . . .
the winding staircase . . .
the one and only octagonally-shaped room . . .
a goldfish pond and squirrels and chipmunks playing on the ivy . . .
the “Old Hotel” that every girl who lives there falls in love with . . .
New closets, the American Cancer Society, Angelo Litrico and panty raids — just a few of the things that set STOPHER apart from all other residence halls. Not so much of a S.L.U.M. as it once was, Stopher houses some of the most enthusiastic men on campus. Fighting the meter-maid parking ticket system and building a Homecoming float with Verder that featured Grog and a fry pan were two of this year's projects. Insane and hilarious, funny and friendly, the notorious "bad guy," but the nicest of all — Stopher.
The "other half" of Lake, OLSON, is "one of the best situated dorms for the women of KSU."
Window-decorating is a major occupation for Olson women, for if they are not painting them to win a pizza, or trying to see past the frost of winter, they are storing panties, pop cans, Tang bottles, snappy slogans or parking gates there.
Johnson

Initiating weekend visitation, JOHNSON continues its policy of "unique" traditions. These men can be seen sprinting through the fourth floor of Lake during panty raids, frolicking during their famous beer blasts or saluting their flag-less flagpole.

Their honors include first place in the men's independent division in Pork Barrel and second place in men's residence hall scholastic averages during winter and spring quarters. They sponsored a day on campus for children from the Summit County Children's Home.
Motion ... activity ... people ... a place to meet practically everyone: LAKE.

Listen to the jumble of a million voices in the lounge and — the grumble of visitors. Lake women raised money, hamsters and sometimes, a little hell. They have fought Kent Interhall Council, painted windows to win subs and finally accepted the fact that they are "Johnson's women."
Overlooking Main Street, TERRACE displays multicolored windows to passersby. Sunning, studying on fire escapes and collage-making pass free time for Terrace women. According to Terrace-dwellers, their dorm is one of the largest female halls on campus whose main purpose is "to make itself one of the greatest places to live." The dorm holds Interhall second place in Pork Barrel and has beer blasts and hootenannies.

Allyn

Painting windows and intramurals are just two of the activities of ALLYN women. Together, these dynamic women hung balloons for their Homecoming display, placed first, all-campus, in Songfest and second in Pork Barrel. The overwhelming spirit generated by these accomplishments radiates from Allyn.
Who says single women can't have more fun? The women of KORB, leaders in spirit, do. Residing in "Claudia's Convent" they carry away trophies, portraits of Mona from Fletcher and the Miss Ugly title of KSU.

Korb is a center of activity, sponsoring intramural sports, a carnival for underprivileged children, and winning the All-university and residence hall trophies for Campus Day. All this wrapped up in a "New Korb Times" newspaper is Korb . . . spirit . . . work . . . and winning.
As the oldest dorm on campus, MOULTON'S slogan is "If it's collegiate, they do it in Moulton." These notorious men, living in this former female residence, have favorite spots, such as the fireplace and the back porches where they study, sit and attract the attention of passersby. Some of the rooms have tubs, much to the dismay of all, while the peeled ceilings and visible pipes become catch-alls for posters, clothes, and almost everything. Doors to rooms seem to be artistic expressions, for the competition among all for the catchiest phrase and the most appropriate picture is keen. If it's collegiate, it really is done in Moulton.
Van Campen

VAN CAMPEN is one of the first small-group complexes, built in 1967. It houses only 64 students, which allows each student to participate on the various dorm committees and fosters mutual cooperation. Van Campen sponsors an annual Halloween party, hayrides, the Spring Recognition Banquet, picnics and Ye Old Apple Polishers.
Numbering 120, the residents of HEER struggle along in their now not-so-far-out hall. They hold barbecues, movies, beer-blasts, hayrides and off-campus parties with the rest of the Small Group I. Two of their unique attractions are the portraits of each of their residence counselors and Ronald Parker.
Combine easy living with studies and the result is HARBOURT, one of two male dorms in Small Group I.

Activities include beer-blasts with Van Campen and finals week study breaks.
Musselman

Being the only dorm that has an annual field day, whose trophy is aptly called, "The Musselman Cup," is a distinction that only MUSSELMAN can enjoy. Advocates of happy hour, Mussel-men have pizza parties, dorm tutors, and usher for the Artist-Lecture series. They boast the highest freshman grade point on campus. Built in 1968, Musselman's distance from the rest of campus is the only thing that separates it and makes the dorm a world in itself.
A member of Small Group II, HUMPHREY was dedicated in 1968, and has done much in its short time as a dorm. Women of Humphrey helped Musselman men construct a float for Homecoming — a 10-foot beer can inscribed “Bomb B.G.” They were overall champs in the “Musselman Cup” competition, vying for the titles of “complex cutie” and “musical water champion.”
Altmann

Trying to do away with their title, "The Leper Colony," involvement has been the aim of ALT-MANN. The dorm sponsors an Easter party for welfare children. Altmann won the KIC all-campus scholarship award. An over-all enthusiasm characterizes the hall.
STEWART is one of the new residence halls in Small Group II, dedicated this past year. The small number of women in Stewart allows each of them to know more of their dorm-mates. They sponsored a beer-blast for all the Small Group dorms. Future plans include another beer-blast, a "Homecoming Happening 27," and a Sadie Hawkins dance.
Apple

Student government business highlighted the past year for APPLE. It culminated with the adoption of their first constitution. Activities for this Small Group dorm included beer blasts and intramural sports. The hall was dedicated in the fall amid signs and posters made by residents.

Dorm life with a new flavor: the meeting of different cultures. MUNZENMAYER attempts to introduce its residents to another country and yet retain the feel of home.

From the time of the spirited dedication of the dorm this fall, men have attempted to relate to other men and find a world friend rather than a political opponent.
Metcalf

A freshman on campus, expecting to outstay the normal four years.
A friend to its own and theirs.
A defense from the natural.
A society for the needs of many.
A home, when not at the home away from home.

McSweeney

McSWEENEY, the international women’s dorm, is one of the newest residence complexes. The women of McSweeney have filled the hall with decorations from their home countries, but have assimilated Kent State “culture,” too, sponsoring beer-blasts, Halloween parties and an annual Christmas party.
Overlooking Eastway Center, TWIN TOWERS is unique on the Kent State campus, being the only dorms to have combined their student government organizations. Beer parties, study in the snack bar and quiet conversations in the lounge characterize Twin Towers, once an experiment in coed living, now an institution at KSU.
Leebrick

LEEBRICK . . . Coed . . . fifteen men and women on each floor . . . Separated . . . by an impregnable wall and a locked metal door . . . Separate lounges . . . with separate elevators that never work . . . An air-conditioning system that cools only in the spring . . . Cracked walls . . . A modern experiment in coed living?
Rooms of... bare feet... rugs... posters... stereos and records... signs of all kinds. People who play that Sunday morning race of "run-around-and-clean-before-open-house."

A building with... a space-ship elevator that is big enough to spend the night in.

Koonce
The loftiest men's dorm is WRIGHT, a "tower of strength." Instigators of mud fights and champion toilet paper throwers, Wright men prove their athletic prowess in many ways, including being tops in intramural dorm football and softball.

Wright holds an annual Halloween celebration and was the first dorm to own any of those "mysterious" pinball machines. Beer-blasts, movies and weekly gab sessions in the Browsing Room make Wright a place for "just plain living."
The KARATE CLUB was founded at KSU in 1968. The club's first year was an active one. During that year the club participated in eight tournaments and took eight first places, ten second places and nine third places. Six of these trophies were won by women. —Success equals dedication plus Jeung H. Kim.

American Industrial Arts Association

The AMERICAN INDUSTRIAL ARTS ASSOCIATION is the only national organization which concerns itself solely with the promotion of industrial arts. Its objectives are to prepare its members for teaching in the field of IA and to professionalize the technical activities of IA education majors. Each spring an Industrial Arts Show is presented in Van Deusen gallery.

AMERICAN INDUSTRIAL ARTS ASSOCIATION OFFICERS: Row 1: T. Barber, advisor, asst. professor; G. Poor, asst. advisor, instructor; R. Adduci, chairman, advising committee. Row 2: R. Burrier, sec'y; C. Garver, vice-president; E. Kentner, president; J. Contant, treasurer.
Taking a realistic approach toward the business world, the COLLEGIATE MARKETING ASSOCIATION sponsors the Marketing Simulation Games. This year, CMA hosted the Quaker Oats Super-Market Simulation Game. The organization's purpose is “to bridge the gap between the textbook atmosphere of the classroom and a realistic marketing environment and to present an informal atmosphere where students can converse with their professors, professional marketing men and other students to further the interests of marketing.” CMA members planned to sell their marketing talents to local businessmen this year.
GAMMA SIGMA SIGMA, women’s service sorority, came of age as Beta Omega chapter of the national organization in June 1969. Gamma Sigma Sigma’s purpose is “to assemble college and university women in the spirit of service to humanity.” Working toward this goal, members do clerical work for the Hattie Larlham Foundation in Mantua, man polls at student government elections, visit the Hudson Boys School and help with Bloodmobile registration. The chapter sponsored the Ohio Valley Regional meeting of the sorority at Kent State on May 1 through 3.
Alpha Phi Omega

Add to the ranks of unsung heroes the men of ALPHA PHI OMEGA, the largest national men's service fraternity. "To assemble college men in an organization to provide opportunities for leadership, friendship and service" are the organization's guiding principles. The A Phi O's help with all local Bloodmobile visits, help with weekly meetings of the Boy Scout Troop at Happy Day School for the Mentally Retarded in Brady Lake, hold a Halloween parade for Kent youngsters, provide ushers for graduation, help with the Marine Corps Toys for Tots Campaign and the Portage County Welfare Department, help the Alumni Association at Campus Day events and sponsor the Freshman Mixer. In addition they built a chapel at the Summit County Boy Scout Camp and run a silkscreen printing service for all campus organizations.
The first initiation for the ORDER OF OMEGA, an honorary for outstanding fraternity men, was held fall quarter. Men are nominated by each fraternity and are selected on the basis of scholarship, the office they hold and service to IFC, the campus and the community.
The world of the participating woman, an eccumenical Christian who is active in service to others, is the world of KAPPA PHI, women's national religious service sorority. Members sponsor a Halloween party for welfare children and adopt grandmothers and grandfathers in the community. Each year they join with their brother fraternity, Sigma Theta Epsilon, for an annual spring formal. Membership in Kappa Phi is open to all women.
Governing body of the fraternity system at Kent State is the INTER-FRATERNITY COUNCIL. This year IFC joined with Panhellenic Council, its counterpart among sororities, to build the $500,000 King-Kennedy Memorial Community Center for the people of McElrath Park in Ravenna. They are the first Greeks in the country to attempt such a project. IFC also helped plan Greek Week and the May Day Relays. Working with Panhellenic Council, IFC strives to maintain high standards for the fraternities to follow.
The outstanding Senior Greek Women's Award is given each year by PANHELLENIC COUNCIL, governing body for Kent State's sororities. Service projects for Panhel include sponsoring an Arizona Indian child and a yearly clothing drive. This year Panhel joined with IFC, its counterpart among fraternities, on the McElrath Park project and Greek Week. The organization also sponsors Rush Week in the fall.
Kent Student Education Assn.

Sponsor of an annual Future Teachers of America Day for high school students is the KENT STUDENT EDUCATION ASSOCIATION. This local chapter of the largest student group in the United States (it boasts more than 100,000 members nationally) also sponsors delegates to the state convention in Columbus and to a fall Leadership Conference at Camp Muskingum. The organization aims to "promote professionalism in students who are planning to become teachers." It is the student affiliate of the National Education Association and the Ohio Education Association.
Stimulating interest in the field of speech and hearing therapy is one of the main purposes of SIGMA ALPHA ETA, the national speech pathology and audiology honorary. This fall members of the honorary sponsored a workshop to acquaint juniors with the Speech and Hearing Clinic. Associate members of the honorary are required to complete two service projects within the Clinic. Members run errands for the Speech and Hearing Clinic and help with the Lost Chord Club. A spring banquet, Christmas caroling, and a Halloween party are recreational activities the honorary held during the year.
Change and growing pains marked the year for the legislative branch of student government, STUDENT SENATE. Fall quarter saw the birth of political parties. Student Senate sponsored Think Week during spring quarter.
After five years as the highest judicial body at Kent State, the HIGH COURT ran into a minor crisis: trouble finding a new chief justice. The actions of the court were stifled only a short time by this problem. The court then continued as the interpreting body for the Student Body Constitution, student-created ordinances, and controversies in the Student Senate, Executive Branch, and other student organizations.
BLUE KEY AND CARDINAL KEY, men’s and women’s honoraries, co-sponsor Penny Carnival, held each winter quarter. Proceeds from the carnival go to scholarship funds. The honoraries recognize outstanding student leaders. Members of the organization are initiated through tapping ceremonies.
Members of SIGMA DELTA CHI, professional journalistic society, voted at their national convention in San Diego during November to allow women journalists to join their ranks. On campus, Sigma Delta Chi stages an annual mock news event for high school journalists and helps during reservation and distribution of the CHESTNUT BURR. Members are compiling a journalism alumni directory and establishing a speakers' bureau.

Theta Sigma Phi

To work for a free and responsible press, to unite women in all fields of communication, to recognize achievements of women journalists, and to maintain high professional standards are the goals of THETA SIGMA PHI, women’s professional journalism honorary. Each year members sponsor the Matrix Table where student and professional journalists meet to discuss problems of journalism. The Helen Bloch Trophy is presented yearly to the woman journalism major with the highest grade point average.
A first place award at the "Intercollegiate Insurance Seminar" sponsored by Ohio Farmers' Insurance and Nationwide Insurance companies was won by the SOCIETY FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF MANAGEMENT. Members of the group sponsor a college-business symposium and tours of area companies. The group provides "a bridge between theoretical university training and the practical world of business and management." The group's purpose is "to promote study and understanding of the scientific principles of modern management."

Kent State's biological sciences honorary, BETA BETA BETA, aims to "create interest beyond that of classroom study in the biological sciences and to promote cooperation and contact between biology students and the professionals in their field." Members sponsor a spring trip and an auxiliary study group. The honorary inducts members each year at a banquet. All Beta Beta Beta lectures are free and open to the public.

Phi Alpha Theta

Sponsoring the PHI ALPHA THETA Regional Conference and collecting books to help the Columbia Station High School Library are two of the service projects of Phi Alpha Theta, national history honorary. Members also sponsor an essay contest for high school students. The purpose of the honorary, which is the only one dedicated to the recognition of superior history students is to foster friendships among students of history and to encourage the study of history.
Omicron Delta Kappa

The Man of the Year Award, a Leadership Banquet and the ODK Campus Day Breakfast are all sponsored by OMICRON DELTA KAPPA, men's leadership honorary. Since its founding on campus four years ago, ODK has striven to encourage leadership in all phases of campus life. ODK is a member of the Association of College Honor Societies and an associate member of the American Council on Education. It recognizes men who have attained high standards in the accomplishment of collegiate activities and encourages other men to strive for these achievements.

Student Nurse Association

To plan, promote and coordinate a program for nursing students, to foster spirit, to serve as a channel of communications and to promote a professional attitude among student nurses at Kent State are the purposes of the STUDENT NURSE ASSOCIATION. The organization sponsors speakers and works on service projects during spring quarter. In spring quarter, the Student Nurses sponsor a club "social fling" and elect new officers.
VARSITY K seeks to establish and maintain close relationships among the Kent varsity athletes. Their activities include ushering, assisting at the Dad's Day program and sponsoring the annual Captain's Reunion. Working frequently with each other, Varsity K men have developed an esprit de corps uncommon to most campus organizations.
Chestnut League

Flasherettes ... cheerleaders ... tradition ... rallies ... noise ... involvement ... Grog ... spirit. All this and more is CHESTNUT LEAGUE, founded to instill the spirit of KSU in every student. Members of Chestnut League construct signs and paint posters promoting spirit for KSU's athletic teams, organize rallies, promote campus traditions and channel enthusiasm of incoming freshmen.
Walking the boards of the legitimate theatre at Kent State are members of ALPHA PSI OMEGA, national dramatics honorary. The Beta Psi chapter at KSU gives recognition for "development and high achievement in the educational dramas program." Each quarter members sponsor plays in the Cellar Theatre and hold receptions for visiting theatre personalities. Annual awards are given by the honorary for achievement in dramatics.
Between actual Air Force officers and GMC cadets in the ROTC program rests the GROUP/STAFF, whose job it is to carry out the teaching instructions of the detachment officers while preparing themselves to become officers. Their administrative duties initiate them to the practical side of leadership roles in the Air Force. The Group/Staff also learns to co-ordinate its activities with other organizations during ROTC Day, ARM-AF competition, the Military Ball and the Honors Day program.

American Institute of Architects

The AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS is a national service organization which busies itself learning and working with new ideas and concepts in architecture. It provides students with an opportunity to meet professionals who can assist them in their studies and in becoming associated with the field.
STUDENT ACTIVITIES BOARD, supported by student fees, aims at providing a “sense of belonging” for each KSU student. SAB sponsors every kind of activity from the Weekend Flick to Creative Arts Festival, aiming to provide entertainment for all tastes. This year, SAB sponsored sports car rallies, Rowboat Regatta, the folk festivals, Spring Fling and the SAB Film Classic and many more campus-wide events.
Major Events Committee

Homecoming, Greek Week, Winter Weekend, Campus Day and many other campus-wide activities are brought to Kent State by the MAJOR EVENTS COMMITTEE. According to the committee members, their aim is to "bring more consistently fine entertainment to Kent State than any other collegiate institution in the Midwest."
Laurels

Ushering for Artist-Lecture Series and presenting the President's Medal for Scholarship to a graduating senior are two activities of LAURELS, the senior women's honorary. Laurels members, who are tapped during spring quarter are selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership and service to the campus community. This year Laurels members worked toward affiliating their organization with Mortar Board, national women's honorary.

Sailing Club

Sailors: a "blow in my ear and I'll follow you anywhere" R-I-P-P-L-E sweatshirted type people. What is a $75 Red Penguin? Remember... Uncle George and Aunt Martha at Macy's window... ponder's expecting another what... appropriating the Canadian National Flag at the Port Huron Regatta... sleeping in, around and under the car at OSU... and 9:30 Sunday services, ice cream, bagels, beer and wine?
Alpha Lambda Delta

ALPHA LAMBDA DELTA, freshmen women's honorary, places special emphasis on scholastic achievement. One requirement for membership is a 3.5 accumulative average at the end of the freshman year. The honorary aims "to promote a higher standard of learning and intelligent living." Each fall Alpha Lambda Delta gives a tea for freshmen women attending Kent State on scholarships. During winter quarter there is a tea for women who are on the Dean's List. Alpha Lambda Delta also sponsors a tutoring program.

New Student Program

You say they made you wear that silly-looking blue and gold dink for a week? And they made you walk all over campus on a tour? But you got to go to a really swell talent show and an Activities Fair? Well, frosh, blame it on NEW STUDENT PROGRAM. The New Student Program was created to acquaint freshmen and transfer students with Kent State, its physical environment and structure. During a three-day Pre-College Conference students get a smattering of university life — academic as well as social. They work out their own schedules, meet representatives from campus organizations, and, at the Freshman Rally they even get to meet The Man.

SPOT

THE STUDENT PROJECT OF TODAY promotes foreign travel and experiences in international living. Founded as Student Project on Tanzania, the organization now has world-tour programs. This summer members will sponsor a tour of Europe. SPOT also cooperates with Re-Con, an employment agency based on computer information.

Pi Omega Pi

PI OMEGA PI, the business education honorary, was ranked first in the country among 120 competing chapters of the honorary. As a service project, members sent texts to the Phillipine University. In their work toward promoting scholarship in business education and fostering ethical standards in business teaching, members sell copies of the reference manual, "The Crutch," to business administration classes. Each spring they sponsor a banquet for members of the honorary and their guests.

Tau Beta Sigma

Winner of the Campus Day Songfest Independent Division was TAU BETA SIGMA, women's music honorary. Together with their brother organization Kappa Kappa Psi, the honorary works to promote interest and spirit in the university bands. This year Tau Beta Sigma stenciled music stands, helped organize a winter band banquet and sold candy. They sponsored a Spirit Week spring quarter to acquaint people with the bands.
AHEA Student Membership Society

Cost suppers and style shows are some of the activities sponsored monthly by the AHEA STUDENT MEMBERSHIP SOCIETY, a professional organization for home economics majors. The goal of the organization is "to promote the ideals of home economics and instill members of the organization with a sense of professionalism." Awards are given yearly to the outstanding senior and freshman home economics majors.

Women's intramural activities at Kent State are sponsored by the WOMEN'S RECREATION ASSOCIATION. To accomplish their goals of furthering recreational interest and activities for women according to the highest standards of sports, members of WRA sponsor many sport clubs. WRA opens the gyms and swimming pools to coeds in the evenings.

Mom's Weekend, Little Sis Weekend, Pork Barrel and the Senior Women's Banquet are all sponsored by ASSOCIATED WOMEN STUDENTS. These activities are all part of AWS' goal to plan programs for the women of Kent State in the areas of education, recreation and social activity. Membership in AWS is extended to all women registered with the university. Fall quarter AWS joined with other campus organizations to sponsor the Sexual Identity Colloquium.
Beta Alpha Psi

BETA ALPHA PSI, national accounting honorary fraternity, honors outstanding accounting majors and encourages them to foster high moral and ethical standards. It also provides opportunities for the honorary’s members to associate with established accountants. Beta Alpha Psi sponsors an initiation banquet each fall and spring.
"To foster the study of mathematics" is the purpose of PI MU EPSILON, national mathematics honorary. Members present the Mathematics Award each year to the graduating senior mathematics major with the highest average in math. They also sponsor a student-faculty tea for mathematics majors and minors.

Pi Mu Epsilon
THE DAILY KENT STATER and its new format derived from a marriage of the designs of two other tabloids: “Newsday” and “Chicago Today” were the subject of a feature story in “Editor and Publisher,” a national professional journal.

The paper took firm editorial stands against the war in Vietnam and urged students to participate in the Vietnam Moratorium peace-action in Washington, D.C., in November. The Stater also kept a sharp eye on the activities of Student Government as well as affording column space to all student and faculty opinions.

News coverage was expanded to include national and international news relevant to the campus. Manned landings on the moon and changes in the draft law received coverage.

The Stater was also host to the Ohio Collegiate Newspaper Convention in April.

Delta Psi Kappa

Members of DELTA PSI KAPPA, women’s honorary service organization, sponsor a professional day and a service project every quarter. They also usher the Shark’s Club swim show. Founded to “recognize worthwhile achievement of women in physical education, to develop interest therein and to promote greater fellowship among women in this field of activity.” Delta Psi Kappa is affiliated with the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation and is a member of the professional Panhellenic Association.

Phi Epsilon Kappa

PHI EPSILON KAPPA is the only men’s physical education honorary in the nation. Their purpose is to promote, develop and serve the profession of health and physical education. As service activities they help disadvantaged families during Thanksgiving and Christmas. They also sponsor an annual car wash and picnic during spring quarter. The honorary also sponsors the annual “Gymnastics in Motion” show.

Phi Epsilon Kappa

Linking students and professionals in the field of aerospace is the goal of the AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF AERONAUTICS AND ASTRONAUTICS. Members hosted the November sectional meeting of the chapter at which a presentation was given in the Smith Hall Planetarium by its director, Dr. Kenneth Warren.

Residence Hall Honorary

Sponsor of the Student Government Workshop and the Spring Recognition Banquet is the RESIDENCE HALL HONORARY. New members for the honorary are traditionally tapped at an annual spring banquet. The purpose of the organization is "to give recognition for outstanding service in resident hall living." Only a limited number of persons are selected for the honorary each year — usually three-fourths of one per cent of the people living in residence halls.
Epsilon Delta Rho

The national architecture honorary at Kent State, EPSILON DELTA RHO, sponsors speakers from various university departments and presents displays of outstanding architectural projects. The honorary is dedicated to promoting and acknowledging achievement in the field of architecture.

Alpha Eta Rho

Each member of ALPHA ETA RHO boasts of having a private pilot's license, or better. Claiming the distinction of being the only honorary at KSU devoted entirely to the cause of aviation as it relates to the public, the organization's members help to inform undergraduate majors of developments in the field of aerospace technology.
Delta Omicron

Tutoring music on campus is one of the service activities of DELTA OMICRON, the national women's music honorary and service fraternity. Members aim to "foster musicianship and professionalism and to serve the school and the community." This year the honorary won the Service Award given by the national fraternity. Delta Omicron sponsors a Founder's Day recital each fall quarter and an Ensemble Program during spring quarter.

Sigma Theta Epsilon

SIGMA THETA EPSILON, fraternity for Christian men, was reactivated on campus in 1964. The organization sponsors service activities including a Halloween party for area orphans and swimming and craft instructions for them. They sponsor a spring Founder's Day banquet, a Winter Formal and a fall swim party. Sigma Theta Epsilon has taken the Independent Division first place four years in a row at Pork Barrel. Their sister sorority is Kappa Phi.
The PHI GAMMA NU key goes each year to the graduating senior woman business major with the highest accumulative average. Phi Gamma Nu national sorority has as its aims the "fostering of the study of business in colleges and universities, upholding the interests of professional competency through the encouragement of scholarship in the field of business. The honorary is affiliated with the Professional Panhellenic Association and sends members to its national convention in Chicago each year. Its members sponsor banquets, speakers and are hostesses for other business organizations.
"The best men that Army ROTC has to offer," is the reputation that the men of Scabbard and Blade must uphold. As a national military honorary of advanced cadets, KSU's "M" Company, 8th Regiment is concerned with raising the standards of military education by spreading intelligent information concerning the military requirements of our country. Throughout the year, the cadets are involved in various activities, co-sponsoring the Military Ball, sponsoring a Winter formal, participating in half-time ceremonies and marching in local parades.
Forty women served Army ROTC as official hostesses for military functions this year. Dressed in the traditional green and gold, the COED CADETTES serve the campus by ushering at football games, assisting at campus voting booths, aiding the Red Cross with the blood drive and attending functions with ROTC cadets. Off campus, the Coed Cadettes prepare food baskets for needy families at Thanksgiving, visit the Portage County Home for the Elderly and set up the Junior and Senior High School Science Fair. They have also adopted an Army company in Vietnam.

What does it take to be a member of KSU's Angel Flight? An Air Force ROTC cadet might say, "a lotta good looks," but the women themselves know that dedication and plenty of hard work accompany the tailored uniforms. The women accomplish their primary goals of service to the university and community by ushering at sports events, assisting the Bloodmobile, serving as campus guides, sponsoring parties for underprivileged children, visiting homes for the elderly and veterans' hospitals and working at the Hattie Larlham Foundation in Mantua.
The word "doers" has been used this year to describe the KSU VETERAN'S ASSOCIATION. Now in its third year, the organization has evolved from a mere social group to a more dynamic organization involved in campus and community affairs. Original goals of the group were to aid the veterans on campus, sponsor intramural teams, and hold dances, parties and spaghetti dinners. Additional goals now include an interest in social projects such as busing disabled veterans from the Cleveland Veterans Administration Hospital to Kent for a Saturday football game. Following the game, residents of Fletcher Hall and the girls of Delta Gamma joined the men for dinner and a social hour.
The Embassy Ball, and the annual International Festival are sponsored each year by the KENT INTERNATIONALS. The organization, which is open to all students, faculty and members of the community, works to familiarize foreign students with American customs while acquainting American students with customs of foreign countries. The Internationals meet every other Friday for dancing, singing, movies and discussions. This year the Internationals entertained the Ghana Dance Company and sponsored talks by professors.
Assn. for Childhood Education

Working at the Hattie Larlham Foundation in Mantua, a home for birth-defected children, is one of the service activities performed by the ASSOCIATION FOR CHILDHOOD EDUCATION. An international organization, its goals are “to work for the education and well-being of children; to promote desirable conditions, programs and practices in the schools; to raise the standard of preparation and to encourage the continued professional growth of teachers and leaders in the field; to bring into active cooperation all groups concerned with children in the school, home and community; to inform the public of the needs of children and how the school program must be adjusted to fit those needs and to render service as part of the campus community and promote good fellowship.”

Council for Exceptional Children

The local chapter of THE COUNCIL FOR EXCEPTIONAL CHILDREN, an international organization, is involved in all phases of work with exceptional children. Their monthly meetings include speeches by guest lecturers ranging from experts on the mentally retarded to teachers of high ability youngsters. Their service projects include working with children at Happy Day School in Brady Lake and Apple Creek. Many of the members attended the state convention in Columbus in November. Membership is open to any interested student.
Mu Iota Sigma

"To encourage oral education of the deaf and to promote a spirit of cooperation and friendship among the members of the fraternity" are the aims of MU IOTA SIGMA, an honor fraternity. A candle light induction ceremony and an annual Christmas party for deaf children who attend classes at Kent State are two of the organization’s activities.

Hillel

HILLEL is the only religious organization on campus specifically for Jewish students. It serves their cultural, religious and counseling needs. This year, Hillel sponsored distinguished speakers who treated with problems of today’s college student. The organization’s activities for the year included sponsoring dances, bagel sales and corned beef dinners.
Newman Center

The NEWMAN CENTER PARISH, under the guidance of the Reverend John Pallante, has become a live, vital participant in campus life. Student participation is the keynote at the Center. It takes the form of folk masses, social events, and during spring quarter of '68, the Center offered a mutual meeting ground for diverse points of view.

student governing bodies, ever on the prowl for more efficient ways of organizing students, have combined Men's Interhall Council and Women's Interhall Council into a coed legislative body: KENT INTERHALL COUNCIL. While correlating their respective duties, the organizations represent the residence halls as a unit comparable to any other representative body on campus. They sponsor Residence Hall Week and other all-dorm activities.
Executive Branch

Yep, this is them. These are the people who are written about in The Stater and depicted in the cartoons. They're controversial, but that's only because they are in such high positions. The guy with the glasses is the head man. His name is "Frank." He's President of the Student Body. Together, this group, the EXECUTIVE BRANCH of Student Government, work to effectively represent the desires and opinions of all students. Not only that, but even though there's been so many jokes about them, and so many problems come up, they haven't done a bad job.

Acting as a liason between the civilian community and the Air Force, ARNOLD AIR SOCIETY is made up of cadets who wish to cultivate within themselves a sense of responsibility and greater depth in preparing to be Air Force officers. The organization is primarily comprised of junior and senior cadets. Members are active in service projects for Hattie Larlham Foundation for handicapped children and also co-sponsor the annual Military Ball, held this year in Akron.

Arnold Air Society
First an idea. Then a proposal. A decision next. Many hours producing. The end result: a program such as "Command Performance," "Sounds '70" or "Theatreland Showcase." Every member of the WKSU RADIO staff plays an important part in every program that goes out on the air, and it's not just a one-time affair. It's done every day. Patience, pride and perseverance all play a part in providing for the "public interest, convenience and necessity."
